

If we want to contact our bank or long-distance provider we all know how to dial the number. Any unwanted contact from vendors I currently use would be considered an invasion of my privacy....the mail crap I get is bad enough.